

Mid-Missouri School Counselor Association Newsletter

President's News

By: Ann Landes

Welcome to the 2013-14 year in the Mid Missouri School Counselor Association (MMSCA). I hope you have made (or will make) the decision to maintain a membership in our organization and to take advantage of the excellent professional and social opportunities that membership will provide for you.

Encouraging all MMSCA Professional School Counselors as well as Counselors in Training in our region to become MMSCA members is one of our three strategic goals for this year.

Another goal is to continue to provide enriching professional development for our members. This year, two of our MMSCA meetings will coincide with Guidance System of Support (GSOS) meetings. We hope by combining these two important meetings, PSC's will have the opportunity to participate in both. Counselors play a major role in the success of their districts in the MSIP 5 process and the fall GSOS meeting will provide information to help counselors become/stay prepared for the work ahead.

Our third goal this year is to broaden the readership of our MMSCA newsletter. So, a newsletter will be sent to each current MMSCA member and will also be sent to a designated PSC in each school district with the hope it will then be distributed to all counselors in all school districts.

I hope to see many of you at Linn Tech on Tuesday, Oct. 8, for the first MMSCA meeting, which will follow the fall GSOS meeting.

Thank you for supporting MMSCA!

Fall 2013 Guidance System of Support Meeting

By: Ann Landes

Digging Deeper - MSIP5 Performance Standards

Building Guidance and Counseling Programs that Impact Lives and Performance

Overview: The Fall 2013 Guidance System of Support (GSOS) meeting will continue to build on MSIP5 Performance Standards by developing guidance and counseling strategies that address the five standards. The MSIP5 Performance Standards and Guidance Manual along with the Guidance and Counseling MSIP5 Checklist will serve as the foundation to evaluate current practices, share ideas and develop program and school goals and strategies. Significant time will be devoted to share guidance and counseling best practices and develop action plans. Counselors are encouraged to bring their current action plan and guidance calendar.

Goals: As a result of this professional development experience, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the MSIP5 Performance Standards and the expectations for their guidance and counseling program.
2. Evaluate their program using the MSIP5 Guidance and Counseling Checklist.
3. Collaborate and share guidance and counseling best practices.
4. Develop goals and strategies that address MSIP5 expectations and building/district goals.
5. Insure that MSIP5 expectations are addressed in their guidance action plan and calendar.

President-Elect News

By: Susan Wolz & Gay Baer

Greetings! The Mid MO Region President Elect will be a shared position for 2013-2014. Gay Baer, K-12 counselor from Pilot Grove, and Susan Wolz, part time K-6 counselor from Osage R-1 Chamois, have volunteered to be Co President Elects for the Mid MO Region. We are excited to join the rest of the governing board in order to provide opportunities for professional development, networking and the dispersing of pertinent information so that as professional school counselors we can effectively interact with our students to provide them with skills to become capable, healthy adults.

The fall meeting, Tuesday, October 8, 2013, will again be hosted by Linn State Technical College, One Technology Drive, Linn MO, located east of Linn on Highway 50. We will be meeting in the Vehicle and Power Center, Room 201, which is the conference hall and where we met last year. Parking should be available in Lot B, east of the building. New this year: the format of the meeting will be changed! This will be a day meeting beginning with the Guidance System of Support fall meeting at 9:30 titled "Digging Deeper – MSIP5 Performance Standards. A description of the GSOS meeting is included at the end of this article. Lunch will follow, provided by Linn State, with the Mid MO general meeting at 1:00 p.m. As in the past three years, the level Vice Presidents will facilitate level sharing sessions during the program of the MMSCA meeting so bring ideas, best practices, and questions to network with other professional school counselors. As soon as registration information is available for the GSOS meeting, it will be forwarded to the membership and posted on the MMSCA website. You need only to register for the GSOS meeting if you are planning to attend both the GSOS and the Mid MO meeting. Should you not be able to attend the GSOS morning meeting, you may RSVP at swolz1201@gmail.com for the afternoon Mid MO meeting. The governing board is scheduled to meet at 2:00 following the general meeting. Columbia College has graciously volunteered to host our traditional December Administrator Appreciation Breakfast again this year. We will be meeting in the Banquet Room of Dulany Hall on Tuesday, December 10, 2013, for breakfast beginning at 8:00 a.m. The governing board meeting will follow the general meeting session at approximately 9:30 a.m.

Our March meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 6, 2014, at Westminster College. This meeting will also attach with the GSOS spring meeting. Tentatively the Mid MO governing board will meet at 12:30 p.m., the GSOS meeting will begin at 1:30 ending at 4:30, followed by our Mid MO meeting and dinner beginning at 5:00 p.m. This will be our time to honor our Counselors of the Year. Be thinking of someone you could nominate this year and watch for information from Carolyn Roof to honor this professional school counselor.

With the meeting time changes we are wanting feedback about the day verses night meeting time and about program needs. Do we want a speaker at the general Mid MO meeting as we have traditionally scheduled in addition to the GSOS program? If so do you have suggestions for topics and/or speakers? Do you have suggestions for other meeting locations? As Co President Elects, we will have a survey available at the October meeting to learn about your thoughts for future meetings and the best direction for our Mid Missouri Region organization.

Meeting Minutes

By: Melissa Coil

Stephens College Campus

The meeting was called to order at 11:10 a.m.

The following governing board members were present: Melissa Coil, Jessica Schumacher, Melissa Head, Amy Spence, Elizabeth Nussbaum, Ann Landes, Bragg Stanley, Carolyn Roof, Julie Day, Jennifer Boyer, Lillian Hoell, Susan Wolz, Diane Clayton, Lee Bunch, Lindsey Gibson, Sarah Sadewhite and Amelia Fagiolo.

Ann Landes opened the meeting by thanking Susan Wolz and Gay Baer for agreeing to be co-president elects for the coming year.

Ann Landes presented her strategic plan for the coming year:

- Membership-to reach all MMSCA Professional School Counselors (PSCs) and Counselors in Training (CITs) about what MMSCA can do for them.
- Professional Development: to access PD resources and workshops offered.
- Newsletter: to reach all MMSCA Region PSCs and CITs with each newsletter.

Bragg Stanley spoke on Guidance Systems of Support. Career Education Coordinators run the meetings, which focus on technical employment opportunities. The goal is to merge these meetings with our MMSCA meetings, to provide professional development for our counselors.

Dianne Clayton made the suggestion if there was a way to combine MO Connections trainings in with these meetings. Bragg will take that on to the state and see if that is possible.

Lee Bunch spoke on MSCA news. The first change is that we have changed from 'districts' to 'regions'. The bigger change is reconfiguring those regions, to allow PSCs to attend meetings that most closely align with where they live. At last fall's meeting the decision was made the change the structure of the MSCA Governing Board (only composed on State Elected Officers, the five Vice Presidents and the Treasurer and Secretary, as well as, the 12 region Presidents). The MSCA Governing Board is now looking at restructuring committees.

Ann Landes presented some upcoming changes for the MSCA Fall Conference (which will be November 3rd-5th). Dr. Ken Ginsburg will be the Sunday night speaker ("Healing the Healer"). Jerry Mills will speak on Tuesday.

Ann Landes presented the meeting dates for the coming year:

- October 8th, 2013 @ Linn State Technical College
GSOS meeting from 9:30-12:30, General Meeting 1:00 pm, Governing Board at 2:00 pm
- December 12, 2013 @ Columbia College
General Meeting 8:00 am, Governing Board meeting 9:30 am
- March 6th, 2013-location TBD
Governing Board meeting (tentative) 12:30 pm, GSOS meeting 1:30-4:30 pm, General meeting 5:00 pm

Ann brought up other things to consider for the Fall Conference: Volunteers, Silent Auction gift basket, Regional Hospitality (partnered with Northeast).

The board then moved into Committee Responsibility Brainstorming:

Membership: Amy Spence-Lillian made the suggestion to continue with the online registration form. There was discussion if we could connect with PayPal for online payment.

Professional Recognition: Carolyn Roof-Carolyn is open to ideas on how to get more recognition for counselors in our region. If anyone is wanting to work on the committee with her, please let her know.

Newsletter: Jessica Schumacher-is wanting any suggestions on how to make the newsletter better. Carolyn Roof asked if we really need committee write-ups in each newsletter, or if the focus shouldn't be more on counselor resources/tips. Sarah Sadewhite suggested that maybe we have a theme for each newsletter, which would help Vice Presidents know about what to write about.

Human Rights/Diversity: Lindsey Gibson-Lee Bunch said that it would easiest to focus on standing up and supporting everyone, not necessarily an individual that aligns themselves with a certain group. Susan Wolz suggested having books or magazines out for display at meetings. send that information out to the whole membership of MMSCA.

Government Relations: Julie Day-Julie has been receiving the information from Shari Sevier, and the suggestion was made by Lee that she send that information out to the whole membership of MMSCA.

Melissa Head asked if we were going to continue doing postcards for the coming year. Jessica Schumacher and Lillian Hoell will work on these together.

Lee Bunch mentioned that ASCA will be moving from an apportioned numbers of representatives per state to two representatives per state.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:12 p.m.

Treasurer News

By: Jeanine Mielke

Greetings to all of our wonderful MMSCA members and future members! I'm Jeanine Mielke and I'm excited to serve as your treasurer again. I have been a counselor for many years and I enjoy each day. My home away from home is Mill Creek Elementary in Columbia. I love working with professional school counselors and feel honored to be a part of MMSCA and serve on the governing board. I would highly encourage you to get involved and join MMSCA. It is a worthwhile organization to join as a professional. MMSCA will give you an opportunity to meet many wonderful people. It is an outstanding support system to help you grow as a counselor, plus provides you with valuable information with guest speakers and programs throughout the year.

There are many ways to become a member. You will be able to join online or at our first meeting October 8th. You also now have the opportunity to pay your membership online!!

Enjoy your 2013-2014 school year!

"Remember if we all do one kind thing we might just change the world."

Membership News

By: Amy Spence

I hope everyone is having a wonderful start to their 2013-2014 school year! A few changes are being made to the MMSCA membership process this year. We are in the process of having an option for all members to sign up online and pay your dues through PayPal on our website. I will be sending an email out very soon letting you all know when these changes are ready! We also designed a t-shirt that you will be able to pay for online as well. The t-shirt goes along with the theme for the MSCA conference. I will be in touch with more membership updates! Look out for my e-mails!

See p. 14 for the T-Shirt design.*

MMSCA Fall Newsletter Focus:

Bullying and Conflict Resolution

Our newsletters this year will feature topics that directly relates to our profession.

Please enjoy the following articles that offer strategies and resources that you can implement in your program.

Elementary Vice-President

By: Sarah Sadewhite

Hello! My name is Sarah Sadewhite and I am the Elementary Vice-President as well as the chair for the Critical Incident Response Team. I work at Mary Paxton Keeley Elementary School in Columbia. This is my twelfth year in school counseling and my tenth year at Paxton Keeley.

I have been a member of MMSCA since I was a graduate student and I think it is a wonderful way to network with other counselors as well as gain other valuable resources and ideas. As Elementary VP it is my responsibility to generate interest and activities among our members. So at every meeting I will try to bring something to share such as a lesson plan, activity or idea that I have come across recently. This year I will also be including topics to share in the newsletter as well. I love this idea! For this newsletter our focus is on bullying (see below). If you come across something that you think should be shared with others please send it my way and I will make sure that it gets passed on to other members at the meeting and/or in the newsletter.

I will also try to update MMSCA members with anything that might be going on at the State level for the Elementary VP or the Critical Incident Response Team. I look forward to working with all of you this year! I hope everyone can make it to our first meeting in October! J

Bullying Ideas for Classroom Lessons:

In my school I start with lessons on friendship, feelings and respect in the younger grades. Then as the students get older it is important to teach the difference between conflict resolution (when kids are not getting along and need to work out a conflict) and bullying. Then discuss that a friend can also be bullying you. Give specific examples and have the kids discuss if they are conflict resolution or bullying. Some of the strategies to use in those situations can be the same. I teach strategies similar to those taught during our abuse prevention unit: say no, get away and tell an adult you can trust. We discuss options: if you feel you can stand up to a bully then use your words and say how you feel. If that does not work or you feel you cannot do that then get away by leaving the situation and/or avoiding places where a bully might be. Finally, we discuss how if you feel unsafe, unhappy or threatened at school then it is important that you tell an adult you can trust so they can help you. I try to make sure that kids understand that different people have a different tolerance level and what is upsetting to one person may be completely different than what another kid can handle. As the students get older we also talk about perception – that one person might perceive a situation as funny while another might perceive it as really mean/bullying. We also spend a lot of time in grades 3-5 talking about bystanders and how to help others. It is important to figure out what works for your school building and your students. It is also important to educate the school staff and parents about what bullying is and is not. Feel free to bring and share more ideas at our October meeting/level-sharing!

In the article *Effective Evidence Based Practices for Preventing and Addressing Bullying, they offer school counselors many strategies and resources to deal with bullying in schools:

Strategies:

- Teach students appropriate behaviors to respond to bullying.
- Provide adult supervision in places prone to bullying behavior
(hallways, cafeterias, parking lots, etc).
- Train faculty and staff on bullying and how to respond.
- Develop and consistently implement clear bullying policies.
- Monitor and track bullying behaviors.
- Notify parents and guardians of bullying behavior.

Weird! – A bullying Victim’s Perspective

This lesson plan and information is taken from the website savvyschoolcounselor.com/weird-a-bullying-victims-perspective/. Check out the website savvyschoolcounselor.com for additional lesson ideas.

Weird! Is one of three books in the series by Erin Frankel which focuses on the victim’s perspective. The other books, Dare! And Tough! focus on the bystander’s and bully’s viewpoints respectively. Each book includes notes from the main character along with activities and reflection questions.

Weird! is about a girl names Luisa. Sam, from the Tough! book, says everything Luisa does is “weird.” Luisa goes on to give several examples of the things Sam considers “weird.” This affects her so much, she begins to change and stops being herself. She stops telling funny jokes and decides to stop wearing her favorite polka dot boots. If you look closely at the pictures, you’ll notice Jayla from the Dare! Book. She doesn’t like how Sam treats Luisa. Soon, Luisa decides she must change her way of thinking. She went back to being herself no matter what Sam said about her, and she acted like she didn’t care. She soon noticed that Sam began to leave her along.

The activity “Recycle Your Thoughts” is taken from Luisa’s Confidence Club at the end of the book. Students cut out eight circles, or polka dots (four white dots and four colorful dots). On four of the dots, students may write some of Luisa’s negative thoughts or some of their own on the white dots. On the other four colorful dots, the students change their negative thoughts into positive ones. They may also decorate them. At the end of the activity, students crinkle up the negative dots and symbolically toss them into the recycling bin. They may keep their positive dots to decorate a notebook or to hang on the wall in their bedrooms. They can also tape these dots to their bathroom mirror where they can read these positive affirmations each day.

Secondary Vice-President

Welcome to the 2013-14 school year! Time is flying by at Jefferson City High School, as I’m sure it is for you at your school. I wanted to share a little bit about what JCHS’s plan of action has been on the issue of bullying. We started the year off with our annual Sophomore Transition Camp, where all of our tenth grade students spend the day with their advisory class rotating from various teambuilding activities and information sessions. One of the sessions is presented by our SRO and our Transition Counselor where they talk about bullying and acceptable behavior. Students were given firm presentation on “what not to do” and the consequences for such behavior according to the JCHS handbook, in addition to legal consequences. Our staff specifically addressed cyberbullying as this is the most prevalent type of bullying at our level. This year, the day ended with an all sophomore class assembly presented by Tina Meier, mother of Megan Meier who drew media attention when Megan committed suicide following cyberbullying from someone within her community. The mood of the assembly was very somber and message seemed to make quite an impact for many. It doesn’t matter if it’s Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram—once you put something out there, it’s permanent. Sexting is never a good thing. Students seemed to take the message to heart. A follow up survey showed our students recognized the signs of bullying and knew what actions to take when they see a situation involving bullying. Students are aware our administration constantly monitors social media and will take a stand against it.

August 2013

Dear Professional School Counselor,

It's hard to believe that educators are already at work in the 2013-14 the school year! As the cooler weather of fall and winter approaches, it makes us reflect on upcoming year with the Mid-Missouri School Counselor Association (MMSCA). Encouraging membership in our organization is one of our main goals so we hope you will accept this invitation to join other professional school counselors in Mid Missouri in being an advocate for school counseling. Information on two easy options to join is attached.

The Mid- Missouri School Counselor Association maintains an active and strong membership that strives to provide you with the most up to date and relevant professional development opportunities in Mid Missouri as well as to be a source of support for professional school counselors (PSC).

This year our governing board decided to change our meeting format by combining the fall and spring meetings with Guidance System of Support (GSOS) seminars. By doing this we hope our MMSCA meetings days will provide PSCs with additional support and resources need to be the most productive school counselors we can be!

Our winter meeting has traditionally been dedicated to Administrator Appreciation and that will continue.

Here are some of the rewarding professional development opportunities and benefits that are available to you through MMSCA Membership this year:

- Fall GSOS Training and MMSCA meeting at Linn State Technical College (Oct. 8, 9:30-2:00)

GSOS Topic: Digging Deeper - MSIP5 Performance Standards

Building Guidance and Counseling Programs that Impact Lives and Performance

Overview: The Fall 2013 Guidance System of Support (GSOS) meeting will continue to build on MSIP5 Performance Standards by developing guidance and counseling strategies that address the five standards. The MSIP5 Performance Standards and Guidance Manual along with the Guidance and Counseling MSIP5 Checklist will serve as the foundation to evaluate current practices, share ideas and develop program and school goals and strategies. Significant time will be devoted to share guidance and counseling best practices and develop action plans. Counselors are encouraged to bring their current action plan and guidance calendar.

This seminar will provide critical information for PSCs to know about the implementation of MSIP 5.

- Administrator's Appreciation Breakfast (Dec. 12 at 8-9:30 a.m. with location TBA)
- Spring GSOS and MMSCA meeting (March 6, 2014 1-7 p.m. with location TBA).....
- Fall, Winter and Spring Newsletters
- Professional Recognition through the local association with opportunities to move on to state recognition
- Networking with many school counselors from across Missouri
- Planned social and professional activities at Missouri School Counselor Association Fall Conference
